Norook, Totto and Zarnesti

We recently tackled the mammoth task of strimming and cutting down some of the foliage in the European enclosure.

We had let it become completely over grown with loads of places to hide. However we do know that those of you coming for encounters like to see the other wolves so we set about cutting it back.

Totto and Norook were a bit wary of the strimmer and ran off to hide.

It was a very hot day and took quite a bit longer than we thought. Now they are more visible they can be seen resting in the grass on hot days or running and playing games on the cooler evenings and mornings.

Norook loves to chase Gizmo when he runs past the enclosure on his morning and evening walks.

Totto is still quite aloof but will venture forward if there are familiar people around or during feeding.

Zarnesti is still a real character and his markings have recently increased in intensity meaning it is possible that there may be a change in dominant status and pack order within the European Pack.
